As a professional event planner, Brooke has planned small meetings to global affairs, coordinating with international partners across the globe and most its continents. She honed her experience design chops by assessing and planning B2B events—challenging herself to devise ways to transform the ordinary into something truly extraordinary—irrespective of sector or industry.

Brooke is a Certified Meeting Professional since 2020 and is a member of the PCMA 20 in their Twenties Class of 2022. When Brooke isn't finding ways to make your next event rise far above the expected, chances are she's hard at work planning her next hiking trip, cooking a new recipe or exploring the great Washington DC area.
